

Marine Aircraft Group- 42

On Time-On Target

The mission of MAG-42 is to organize, train, and equip combat ready squadrons to augment and reinforce the Active Marine Forces in time of war, national emergency or contingency operations, provide personnel and operational tempo relief for the active forces, and provide service to the community.

Simply put, combat readiness equates to having professionally maintained aircraft and properly cared for and trained Marines to employ those aircraft whenever and wherever